

Essential Hospital Workers Complimentary Contact Lens Program

While signs of re-opening are increasingly evident across the country and within the optical industry, data suggests that a true recovery remains a distant goal, and COVID-19 cases continue to appear. With hospital workers still very much on the front lines of care, CooperVision is committed to helping eye care professionals provide necessary support to these patients through the Essential Hospital Workers Complimentary Contact Lens Program.

HOW THE PROGRAM WORKS:

Essential hospital workers are eligible to receive one complimentary box of CooperVision contact lenses for each eye. This includes all 1-day, 2 week and monthly brands that CooperVision manufactures.* The patient must have a current CooperVision contact lens Rx to be eligible.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

CooperVision is ready to help you support your patients who are engaged as essential hospital workers on the front lines in the US. If you have a patient that is working at a hospital to fight COVID-19, we encourage you to utilize the CooperVision Essential Hospital Workers Complimentary Contact Lens Program to provide them with replacement contact lenses. CooperVision values our partnership with your office and participation is at your discretion.
